FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1900.

NO. 6.

INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNTY CLERKS.

State of Kentucky,
Office Secretary State,
Frankfort, October 18, 1900.
To the County Clerk of _____ County:

Dear Sir:—By an amendment to the present election law, approved to-day, it is provided that the ballot shall be of the form herewith enclosed, i. e., that the emblem shall be just above a circle one inch in diameter, which is used instead of the square, and that the party title shall immediately follow. The primary stub for name and residence of voter and consecutive number of ballot is to be at the top of the ballot, above the device, and the secondary stub for the name of the voter and consecutive number of ballot is to be on the bottom, or end of the ballot opposite to that of the several party devices. In all other respects the ballot will be as heretofore, the small square following each name, and after each name there is to be a blank space for a name, followed by a small square. You will have printed, in addition to the names of electors and candidates for Governor, the names of your candidates for Congress, and such other candidates as are to be voted for in your county. In the case of the Seventh Appellate District the names of the candidates for Judge of the Court of Appeals, or by petition, on the ballot according to your direction. According to my construction of the act, which construction is concurred in by the Attorney General, the certification of nominations for officers not to be voted for by the electors of the whole State is to be made to the county clerks of the counties composing the districts, which are to elect such officers, and not to the Secretary of State. It is therefore incumbent on you to have the names of all candidates certified to you by certificate of nomination, or by petition, printed on the ballots for your county in addition to the names of the candidates for elector and Governor.

The act referred to provides also that I shall have shipped to you a sufficient quantity of a prescribed quality of paper upon which the ballots for your county are to be printed. This paper has been ordered shipped to you by express, and will be delivered immediately through the nearest local express office. You will have to see that it reaches the printing establishment where your printing is to be done in time to have your ballots printed and sent to you for distribution in your county. I would suggest, therefore, that if you meet the paper at your nearest express office and have it delivered or have it reshipped to the printer where you will have your ballots printed.

This will save time and possibly provide against the failure to have your ballots ready on time. The act also provides that the county clerk shall have made for each voting precinct in his county one metal stamp at least one inch in diameter, which shall be known as the county election seal. It shall have upon it the word "election" straight across the center; the name of the county around the circle inside the rim above the word "election," and the name of the precinct for which it is made around the circle inside the rim below the word "election." This seal is to be used in the sealing of the bundle of counted ballots at the close of the polls, as provided in the act. A number of printed copies of the act will follow this at the earliest practicable moment, in order that you and the precinct officers may follow its provisions. You will also provide for each precinct one stick of the best sealing wax, such as is used by the United States Government and express companies for sealing packages containing money. I mention these articles specifically in order that you may get your orders for them in time. The printed copies of the act, which will be sent you in the next few days, advise you fully as to your duties and the duties of precinct officers under its provisions. The delay in passing the law and in presenting it to the Governor for his approval has made it necessary to delay sending the certificate at an earlier date. I have given my best efforts to the task of saving you with the paper, and in complying fully with the law referred to.

It is proper I should add that if you do not receive the paper shipped to you under this law twelve days before the ensuing election it will be your duty to furnish the paper yourself, i. e., order it from your printer. It must be plain white, sufficiently thick that the printing can not be distinguished from the back, shall be of number one white book paper, and when 26 x 40 inches weigh 80 pounds to the ream, and if double cap 40 pounds to the ream.

Very truly yours,
C. B. HILL,
Secretary of State.

COMMUNICATED.

Beverly, W. Va., Oct. 18, 1900.

Editor Roundabout:—Being connected with the West Virginia Central and Pittsburgh R. R., who have under construction some ninety miles of road, I had occasion to call the other day at Messrs. Mason & King's railroad camp, near Gladys, Randolph county, W. Va., and found Mr. Claiborne R. Mason, of your city, in charge of a large portion of our work. Mr. Mason seems an ideal railroad constructor, has a large camp well arranged with necessary commissaries, some 60 or more negro cabins and shanties, and amply provided with various kinds of machinery, is working several hundred laborers, and in addition to many rock cuts, partially completed is putting through a large tunnel some nine hundred feet in length. Mr. Mason was very courteous and showed me over his work. He seems to be making rapid progress and is highly pleased with his success so far. He commenced the work early in the spring and hopes to near its completion the latter part of December next.

Our people knowing his family's fame as contractors of railroads, and as this young man is a chip off the old block, we see no reason why he should not climb the ladder to the rounds his predecessors have established. The work is very heavy and the contract a large one, being fifteen miles to the nearest town, and in the heart of the mountains of West Virginia. As a young man in charge of so important a piece of work, we think he has made a marked success.

Thinking it worthy of note and interest to his friends, I indulge in this liberty.

Respectfully,
EMPLOYE W. V. C. & P. R. R.

"A TRIP TO THE MOON."

The Midway at the Pan American Exposition in Buffalo, in 1901, will be over half a mile long, giving a mile or more of frontage for the wonderful variety of novel entertainments there to be presented. It will outrival in interest and extent anything ever created in this line. It will include some of the best standard attractions, vastly improved, and a strong array of new ones fresh from the fertile brain of the inventor and artificer. It will be a display of ingenuity impossible to anticipate by any process of extravagant reasoning or guessing. Who but a professional of ripe experience could have placed "A Trip to the Moon?" The voyager is directed to go aboard the airship 'Lum,' moored at a convenient landing. It is light, and the heavens sparkle with a myriad of stars. When all is ready the cables are thrown off and the ship rises steadily to a height of about two miles. The air is clear, and you can see many lights on earth below. We now pass eastward over Rochester, Albany, and then southward over New York. The earth now falls rapidly behind. We are going at a terrific velocity, as noted by the resistance of the air, which seems to blow hard in our faces. The earth becomes a large ball and moon grows larger. We are fast nearing the satellite, and soon find the ship moored to a landing in the moon. Guides receive us and show us the palace of the Man in the Moon. His majesty receives the party, bidding them welcome and according them the freedom of his domains. We are then shown about the splendid palace and through the streets of the City of the Moon. The ladies are especially interested in the show windows of the moon shops. The trip may be made with entire safety, and the return to earth leaves one with the remembrance of having passed through a wonderful experience.

When you have no appetite, do not relish your food, and feel dull after eating, you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Price 25 cents. Samples free at J. W. Gayle's drug store.

"DARKNESS AND DAWN."

"Darkness and Dawn," which is to be one of the features of the Midway at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo next year, is a presentation of Dante's Inferno. It is remarkably realistic, with enough of comedy to relieve the gruesomeness that otherwise might jar sensitive natures. The visitor is taken in hand by guides and conducted to an elevator by which he seems to go down, down into hopeless darkness. As he steps from the cage he finds himself in a cool retreat with jovial companions, such as a living skeleton, a widow in her weeds, and an undertaker or two. It is the threshold of the place which good people expect to avoid in the hereafter. The visitor, under the protection of guides, is assured of safety. He is led through a series of corridors and grottoes, along burning lakes and other devices of torture, where he may witness the punishment of those who juggle with the truth, who borrow umbrellas and neglect to return them, who gossip about their neighbors, and who otherwise trespass on the rights of others. The lesson is a salutary one. Presently the scenes of purgatory are passed and the visitor comes to the "Grotto of Dawn," where maidens are dancing and singing and wonderful illusions greet the eye. The music and brilliant scenes form a happy ending of the journey. After tarrying a few moments in the grotto the visitor returns once more to the realm of everyday life.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run down invalid. Only 50 cents at J. W. Gayle's Drug Store.

WILSON LOSES SOME MORE.

Col. John Henry Wilson, who had filed suit in the Jefferson Circuit Court to oust Judge W. L. Brown from his position as Circuit Judge for the Barbourville District, claiming that he (Wilson) was elected because some 80 voters pasted his name on the ballot last November, and whose claim was disallowed by Judge Field, of that court, was knocked out again, on Wednesday, by the decision of the Court of Appeals, which affirmed Judge Field's opinion, and held that there had been no legal election held, and that Judge Brown was the lawful judge.

Some thoughtless boys came near causing a serious accident to one of our old gentlemen on Wednesday evening. On Shelby street, near Campbell, they stretched a stout cord across the pavement, and in the darkness the gentleman, who was walking rapidly, struck the cord and was thrown violently to the ground, bruising him up considerably, luckily no bones being broken.

The authorities should look into this, and punish severely those found guilty. They certainly knew it was wrong, and were careless as to who was likely to be injured by their meanness.

NEWSY NOTES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

The fall interest is awakening along all lines of work, and every department is preparing for better things.

The gymnasium classes which were begun on Oct. 1st, are growing. Mr. R. E. Kilen, recently of Cincinnati, has charge of the class work, and he is proving his knowledge of practical gymnastics.

The new bath rooms are about completed. This means that the Association is now able to accommodate more members. This department alone is worth triple the membership fee.

A debating club, in the near future, is most probable. All interested should be at the Association rooms to-night. A literary club is also assured. The club was organized Thursday night.

The library is popular, but it needs some additional books. The friends of the Association can render much help by making donations to this department.

The standing committees of the Association have been appointed and in the near future some interested friends will invite the active membership to meet in their home for a social evening.

The men's Bible Class, which meets on Friday evening at 7:30, is becoming more interesting and much help is being derived.

The men's Sunday meetings continue to grow in interest. Dr. J. W. Tyler, of Richmond, spoke last Sunday to an appreciative number of men. The service to-morrow will be one of special music and song. It will be interesting to every man.

Mr. Knox, the General Secretary, spent last Sunday in Eminence, Ky., where he assisted in a Y. M. C. A. meeting. Considerable interest was manifested, and it is not unlikely that an organization will be formed there.

The board of directors met Thursday afternoon and discussed and adopted plans for improving the Association.

Feelings of safety pervade the household that uses One Minute Cough Cure, the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It is infallible for coughs, colds, croup and all throat and lung troubles. It will prevent consumption. South & Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

IT HAPPENED IN A DRUG STORE.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine, and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale in a large measure to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by J. W. Gayle, Druggist.

TRUE AS GOSPEL.

Of all the love affairs in the world none can surpass the true love of a big boy for his mother. It is pure and noble, honorable to the highest degree in both. I do not mean only a dutiful affection; I mean a love that makes a boy gallant and courteous to his mother, showing to everybody that he is fairly in love with her. Next to the love of a woman's life with honor as this second love—this devotion of a son to her. I never yet knew a boy to turn bad who began by falling in love with his mother. Any man may fall in love with a fresh-faced girl, but the boy who is a lover of his mother in her middle age is a true knight.

"Could Not Sleep."

Sleeplessness marks the very climax of human suffering. It is only a step removed from insanity. When sleep no longer restores the exhausted nature, the struggle with disease cannot last long. The starting point of the nervous disorders which produce ill-health and sleeplessness, is generally a diseased condition of the woman's organs. Restore these organs to sound health and the appetite comes back, the day's work no longer wears, and sleep is sound and refreshing. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures disease of the woman's organs. It stops the drains which weaken women; it heals the inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is a temperance medicine.

"My health has been poor for many years and I had taken a great deal of medicine, but it did me no good," writes Mrs. Rose Kennedy, of Springfield, Adams Co., Wis. "Last August my health was very poor. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he kindly advised me to take his 'Favorite Prescription.' I took four bottles of the 'Prescription' and a new bottle of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I feel like a new woman."

CENSUS OF CUBA.

Headquarters Division of Cuba, Office of Chief Sanitary Officer of Havana, October 1, 1900.

To the Adjutant General, Division of Cuba.

Sir—I have the honor to forward herewith report of Vital Statistics of Havana for the month of September. The general death rate of this month makes a very favorable comparison with that of any September for the past ten years. The report shows that we had 510 deaths, which gives a rate of 25.68 per thousand for the year. This is considerable less than any September for the last ten years with the exception of last year, when we had 490 deaths. This September we had 34 more deaths from Yellow Fever than we had last September. This, of course, considerably affects our mortality rate; but the greatest item is the fact that in September of last year Havana had just passed through a severe famine for two years, and it is well known that famine and pestilence kill off the old, very young and invalids generally, and that for a short time after such calamities the death rate is considerably reduced. The number of this class were greatly reduced for the last four months in 1899. In course, must be taken into consideration. The deaths for September, 1899, of children under one year of age were 91; for this September they were 120. This shows a large increase in the number of children under one year, due to the fact that during the preceding three years the birth rate had dropped to a very low point, and most of the children born had to struggle with starvation and famine. Taking in the items of Yellow Fever and deaths under one year of age, 94 in one case and 83 in the other, our deaths would be reduced by 67, which is the true rate as compared with the last three years. Tuberculosis shows a steady decrease, the rate last year being 8.92 per thousand, that for this year being 2.68 per thousand.

We had 32 deaths from Yellow Fever. This compared with the number of deaths for the same months during the past ten years is much under them. The only years which have a smaller number are 1890, '98 and '99. Considering the much larger nonimmune population at present in Havana, than was in Havana during the years mentioned, this makes a pretty good showing. The average for September during the past ten years is 72.40, which is very much greater than the number we give this month. Of the cases occurring in September, 64 were Americans and 194 were Spaniards. The number of deaths among Americans giving percentage of deaths 7.81 per cent Americans and 19.89 per cent Spaniards.

The immigration has been very large and brings us a large quantity of nonimmune material, but the steps taken by the Military Government for establishing a Bureau of Immigration, and to put an immigration settlement in a healthy locality outside of the city, will greatly obviate this. The idea being to collect all the immigrants and take them right from the shipping to this settlement, without coming near the City of Havana, and then distribute them to their various destinations around the island. This would have more immediate effect than any other measure, I think, that can be taken at present.

The amount of cleaning and sanitary work, as shown by the report, has been very largely increased. I call attention to the very large number of privies, cesspools, etc. examined this month as compared with any former month. Also the large number cleaned and disinfected.

We have now employed a total of fifty-two inspectors, constantly inspecting the condition of houses, and two hundred and forty other employees constantly engaged in various ways in attending to the reports of these inspectors. While this Department is doing a great deal of very useful work, and I think that the hygienic condition of the city has been and will be considerably improved by work on these lines, the permanency of the work is sharply limited by the continued absence of a sewerage system. No one can appreciate this as does the Sanitary Officer from the daily examination of 800 reports of house inspections, in which one of the questions of disposal of sewerage comes up. No permanent improvement can be effected, in my opinion, until Havana is given some sort of sewerage system, and the sooner this is done the better. It is by far the most pressing need that the Sanitary Department has before it at present.

Very Respectfully,
W. C. GUNAS,
Major and Surgeon, U. S. Army,
Chief Sanitary Officer.

STOP IT.

It has grown to be a perfect nuisance the way nurses having children in here during the day on the streets. Two or three of them will get together and engage in animated talks and never think of giving way for anyone to pass them. If you wish to pass you have to go out in the street. It is a flammable offense to obstruct the sidewalk, especially in this way, and the authorities should at once break up this practice by warning these parties, or by arresting and having them punished by the city court.

HOW THAT MONEY WENT.

Editor Roundabout:

At the opening of the session of the Legislature last winter a resolution was introduced and adopted inviting the ministers of the city (as is usual) to open the sessions of the General Assembly with prayer.

The ministers complied with the request and performed that duty until Mr. G. B. Stout, the member from Woodford county introduced and had adopted a resolution stating that only those ministers who had voted for Gobel were wanted to pray for that remarkable body. Of course the ministers who had not supported Gobel ceased to render any further service, but the session was one-half gone.

Some days ago an appropriation was made for the ministers for opening the sessions of the House and Senate with prayer, and while the resolution was being discussed mention was made of the $250 that was appropriated last winter for like purpose. The warrant was drawn in favor of Claude Desha, chief clerk of the Senate. Claude whispered to Carter, President of the Senate, and told him that the money was paid out pro rata among the ministers, according to amount of services performed.

This seemed to satisfy all concerned, but some people set out on an investigation, and report that this is the way the money was distributed: The Rev. T. F. Tallaferra was paid $100 of the $250, the Rev. Lew. G. Wallace, of the penitentiary, was paid $100, and the ministers of Louisville were paid the other $50. The Rev. B. L. McCready, of the Episcopal Church; the Rev. M. B. Adams, of the Baptist Church; the Rev. Wm. Grove, Jr., of the Southern Presbyterian Church; the Rev. George Darsie, of the Christian Church, and Father Thos. S. Major, of the Catholic Church, each of whom took an equal part in opening the sessions with prayer for the first half of the session, received not a cent, nor was a cent offered them, while Wallace, the penitentiary chaplain, received $100 for opening the session of the House three times. He was never in the Senate at all.

While the ministers named would not have taken a cent of the money had it been offered them, their friends are justly indignant that the man who received the money and disbursed it, claimed that he had paid it out according to services rendered.

They worked in that capacity for a month and did not have a cent offered them, while Mr. Wallace received $100 for praying three times in the House.

Clark Desha, when seen this morning and asked how he distributed the money, but he refused to make any statement. Senator Huff was then seen. He said: "The sum of $250 was appropriated at the last session for the purpose, and at the beginning of this session I asked how it was distributed, and Desha said it had been distributed pro rata among the ministers who had opened the Legislature. I then visited the following ministers, all of whom had acted, and found that none of them had received a cent: Richard L. McCready, George Darsie, M. B. Adams, Wm. Grove, Jr., and T. S. Major. I then visited the Rev. T. F. Tallaferra. He said to me: 'That money was distributed very unjustly. I received $100, the Rev. L. G. Wallace, who conducted the services only three times, received $100, and several ministers of Louisville received the other $50.' " "That's the money goes, pop goes the weasel."

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and your grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you see and that there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by S. B. Holmes. 4-ly.

FRANKFORT, OCT. 30, 1900.

DEATH OF GOV. THOS. P. PORTER.

Hon. Thomas Paine Porter, of Versailles, at one time State Senator from the district composed of Franklin, Anderson and Woodford counties, died at his home on Monday last, aged 79 years. While Senator he was elected president of that body, and after the death of Lieut. Gov. Lynn Boyd became Lieutenant Governor ex-officio, and acted as Governor several times in the absence of Gov. Magoffin from the State.

He was a man of fine mind and great attainments, but had been in retirement from public affairs for long years.

As a lawyer, while not brilliant, he was thoroughly acquainted with the principles and practice of the profession. As a politician in debate he was sarcastic and bitter to a strange degree, considering that he was a warm-hearted and chivalric gentleman in private life.

He was a member of the Methodist Church in his later life, and the funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Dr. C. F. Evans, after which the remains were placed in the Versailles cemetery.

HORRIBLE SUICIDE.

Col. Thos. F. Lane, son-in-law of Hon. Jo. C. S. Blackburn, committed suicide at his home in Washington City on Monday night. Ill health was the assigned cause.

It is said that Col. Lane was a handsome and cultivated gentleman. He was married to Miss Lucille Blackburn, youngest daughter of the ex-Senator, and had one child, a little girl.

YOUTSEY TRIAL.

The heretofore unheard of and uncanny spectacle of an unconscious and possibly dying man being tried for his life is now the shameful spectacle that holds the boards at Georgetown.

Guilt or innocent, any man who is unconscious is entitled to have a trial at which he is aware of all the facts and is able to consult and advise with his counsel, and to testify in his own behalf.

These be strange times, and strange scenes are witnessed in the "Old Kentucky Home." God grant that they may never occur again.

Blood.

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bonemuscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

FEDERAL LAW APPLIED TO STATE ELECTIONS.

In the case of U. S. v. Coe, 127 U. S. Reports, an interesting decision is made as to application of the Federal laws to State elections when Congressmen are elected at the same time.

The case was one where a Mayor of Indianapolis was elected at the same time as a Congressman. The indictment was for tampering with or concealing ballots that concerned the election of mayor. It did not affect the Congressman's election in any way.

Two opinions are published—one by Justice Harlan and one by Justice Miller—both concurring. The court holds that where Congress has made no special law to govern Congressional elections the State law shall take its place, and any offense that in any way might affect or invalidate the election of Congressmen, although applying to a State election only, shall come within the jurisdiction of the Federal courts. In the case of the Mayor of Indianapolis cited, the court took jurisdiction, although the offense did not affect the Congressional election. The court held that it might have done so.

Under this decision in the coming election all offenses that might affect the election of Congressmen will come within the jurisdiction of the U. S. Court, although relating only directly to the election of Governor or Judge of the Court of Appeals.

When you can not sleep for coughs it is because that necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For Sale by J. W. Gayle, Druggist.

THE BISHOP OF DELAWARE.

To-morrow, Sunday, October 31st, the Right Rev. Dr. Coleman, Bishop of Delaware, will preach both morning and night at the Church of the Ascension (Episcopal). There will be a special meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, the ladies' missionary society of the parish, immediately after the evening service, at which the Bishop will make an address, and he will also speak to the Sunday-school in the morning. Bishop Coleman is on his way to attend the Missionary Council of the Episcopal Church, in Louisville, next week, and is a most earnest and vigorous speaker, and it is expected that large congregations will hear him on his Sunday in Frankfort.

BECAME A LAW.

The new law, known as House Bill No. 19, which provides for preserving the ballots, putting a circle under the device, punishing tampering with ballots or with voters, and, generally, a good law, became effective on Tuesday by the attaching of the signature of the Acting Governor.

The law will punish the acts and doings that have been so rampant at elections in this city for several years.

But the trouble is that there are men who have done these things that are clothed with the power to punish. Only by a power above the local court can any election stealer be punished.

GREAT EXCURSION—LAST OF SEASON.

By an advertisement in to-day's paper it will be seen that the Queen and Crescent Railway will give the last grand excursion of the season to Cincinnati from Harrison, Tenn., and all points between the two, on Friday night and Saturday, October 20th and 27th.

Everybody should take advantage of the great offer.

Dr. W. H. Lewis, Lawrenceville, Va., writes: "I am using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in my practice, among severe cases of indigestion, and find it an admirable remedy." Many hundreds of physicians depend upon the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in stomach troubles. It digests what you eat, and allows you to eat all the good food you need, providing you do not overload your stomach. Gives instant relief and a permanent cure. South Longwood, W. McKee Hardie.

FINE RECEPTIONS.

Gov. Roosevelt met with fine receptions at all his appointments in Kentucky, commencing at Henderson and ending up at Covington.

The turnout at Louisville was a specially gratifying one, the crowd being estimated at all the way from 15,000 to 25,000.

At only one point was there any rowdiness (Elizabethtown) and that was quickly suppressed by the seething rebuke of the gallant Rough Rider.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Most likely you suffer from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and gives the worn-out stomach perfect rest. It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of food; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion and stomach trouble after everything else has failed. It can be taken in all conditions and can help but do you good. South & Longwood, W. McKee Hardie.

The Whole Truth!

There's nothing so bad for a cough as coughing.

There's nothing so good for a cough as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

The 35 cent size is just right for an ordinary, everyday cold. The 50 cent size is better for the cough of bronchitis, croup, grip, and hoarseness. The dollar size is the best for chronic coughs, as in consumption, chronic bronchitis, asthma, etc.

BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Mrs. Jane E. Wright being 67 years old Sunday, October 14th, 1900, her children made her a birthday dinner at Mr. Henry Wright's, near Evergreen Church. All of her children except John being present. He was detained by sickness.

There were twenty-two grandchildren present and six great grandchildren. Mr. Harry Lanter and wife, Cordia Cardwell, Graves Cardwell, Una Farmer, Billie Bergan, Maggie Bogan, of Illinois, were present. The day was perfect, the sun shone bright and warm, not a cloud to be seen in the sky.

The tables were strewn under the trees in the yard, some forty or fifty feet in length and burdened with everything that one would want to eat.

When all had gathered around the tables Berget Wright read a chapter from the Bible, after which Bro. Lanter offered a very beautiful and impressive prayer, which brought tears to many eyes.

When dinner was over the older ones repaired to the house and the children to the swings and different places of amusement which had been prepared for them. Those joys and pleasures were continued until late in the evening, when they all bade each other adieu and departed for their different homes. All joined in hopes of meeting again one year hence. HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

(By Col. Wm. H. Murray.)

Copied from National Portrait Gallery.—Vol.—II.—Published Philadelphia.—D. Rice & A. N. Hart.—1860. Contents of Volume II.

Page 5. "On the 1st of July he was elected the First Republican Governor of Virginia."

Page 6. "On the 1st of July he was elected the First Republican Governor of Virginia—and was continued in that station by an Unanimous vote until 1778."

(Read this first) "Having resigned his commission as Colonel of the first Reg't, and Commander of all the forces raised and to be raised for the defence of the Colony," he was elected a delegate to the Convention which met on the 5th of May 1775, at Williamsburg. On the 11st of July.

Page 7. In the year 1776, he was once elected governor of Virginia, which he declined. Page 8. The Virginia convention met a second time in March, 1776. Resolutions were adopted containing a plan for the organization of the militia. In defiance of the opposition of the ablest and most patriotic members of the convention, they were sustained by a torrent of irresistible eloquence from Mr. Henry, who inspired the convention with a determined spirit of resistance. An opportunity soon occurred for a trial of his courage, as well as of his influence with the people. The prohibition of the exportation of powder from Great Britain, was attempted by attempts to procure the possession of magazines in America, by which the Colonies would be deprived of the military arms. A large quantity of gunpowder was clandestinely removed from the colonial magazine at Williamsburg, and placed on board of armed British vessels. (So was the voice of the People in Ky. removed and placed into the hands of three men. The excitement which it produced, extorted from the governor a promise for its return, by which public feeling was however appeased, but subsequent threats and rumors of fresh encroachments on their magazines, together with the irritation produced by the battles of Concord and Lexington, aroused the country to arms. The movements of the military corps were however arrested by the exertions of Mr. Randolph. But Mr. Henry, determined not to submit to the aggressions of the British, and the (Democrat Gov. in Ky. to-day) dispatched express riders to the members of the Independent Company of Hancock, to meet him in arms at Newcastle. Having aroused their patriotism by all the efforts of his eloquence, he became the Commander, and they commenced their march for Williamsburg. (Mount Vernon) met him in arms at Newcastle. The country was electrified. Other companies joined the revolutionary standard of Patrick Henry, and at least five thousand men (1200 Mountain-Men) were in arms, rushing to his assistance. The governor issued a proclamation denouncing the movement. (Likewise Press of Democracy in State against Mountmen coming to Frankfort.)

"The greatest consternation prevailed at Williamsburg; even the patriots were alarmed, and detached messengers were sent to induce him to abandon the enterprise; but undaunted he resolutely pursued his march. The governor, after making vain attempts for his defence, deemed it most prudent to avoid a conflict (so it was in Frankfort) and accordingly ordered Mr. Henry to be met at Newcastle with a compensation in money for the powder. Another proclamation from the governor denouncing him not only fell harmless before him, but seemed to render him an object of greater public regard. Mr. Henry's journey to Congress, which had been interrupted by this event, was now resumed, and became, as far as the borders of Virginia, a triumphal procession."

Magna Charta "We will not deny to any man either justice or right." This was the cry of a people in whose minds a clear perception of legal forms had not yet dawned; but it was the clear, high voice of liberty, which when once spoken, never ceases to echo and resound from age, until the angel shall close the book of time. I love to listen to its pealing strains. No music this side of the winged cherubim of God is so sweet to my ear. Contrast it with the harsh, discordant notes of the Executive usurpations of the Legislature of the present hour, and the subject tones of those who feed on the smiles of (Usurper) executive favor. I turn away from the sight of expiring liberty, and the contest is assured myself, by a contemplation of other days that it cannot altogether die."

"The lessons of history upon this grand subject are full of deep and painful instruction. I look at questions in their general import. By degrees, in all ages of the past, tyranny has enmeshed upon popular right. (Vide Kentucky to-day.) The citadel of liberty was never taken by sudden assault without previous mining, battering and treachery. The approaches have been made by numerous measures of a kindred tendency. The progress to the stronghold has been step by step. Good men too have often been the instruments of these measures. The noblest arguments have likewise been made for them. (As has been made for the Goebel bill.) Gentlemen from all parts of the State have arisen and told us that the abominable features of this measure (Goebel bill) are wise and good. (To tell us that the abominable features of this measure are wise and good, and to throw voters, precincts, and counties and cities out, on the count by the Commissioners, three snail's pace, and to make that special purpose—count out.)

"The seditious American citizen, who holds public station in the Legislature of Ky. and participates, courts, embraces a corrupt and stormy fanaticism, and a brood of frightful men appointed for their evil and treacherous actions instantly spring up, and

"With wide Cererian mouths full of lies, they will devour the life and harass and shock the patriotism of the country. (State.)

"We can appeal to the American citizen to allow the house, which his fathers built to stand forever—that, though divided it may be in its domestic economy, yet it is not divided into its fell, which it this and we can hope that our labors will bring forth the fruits of peace, and the evil hour must come, if patriotism is to be humiliated and treason exalted. If the schemes of the seditious citizens are to triumph, strife and commotion are to cumber this fair land, then may some Brutus avenge the cause of liberty in the capital; and may the authors of our ruin be the first to sup full of its horrors!"

"If, in the wisdom and mercy of divine providence (Kentucky) is permitted to survive the baneful principles of the present crisis, serene skies and a peaceful calm awaits us in the future. The patriot who can hope after the Conspirator (Legislature and Partisan Judges, Courts, etc.) will shrink away, baffled into a dubious oblivion. Good omens will cheer us and the (Kentuckian) race will rush forward again on the bright track of liberty, when they are blazed out by their illustrious forefathers."

"So too the adherents of Caesar sat at Rome, when he was crowned emperor, and usurping imperial power. In speaking of Caesar Monroque says: 'He raised troubles in the City by his emissaries; he made himself master of all elections; and consuls, praetors and tribunes purchased their promotions at their own price.'

"Caesar made himself master of all the elections. The blackest crime ever seeking the highest liberty of virtue to cloak its infamy. When Satan himself came from the burning pit below, when he lurked around the city of Eden, and finally, scaling the bright ramparts, sat down to seduce Eve in those green and ambrosial bowers, he led her to her fall and sent us to ruin by disguising the hideous lineaments of evil in the skillful guise of good. So the advocates of their bill (Goebel bill) will tell you it is all for the best. I tell you it is all for the worst. And feeble though my voice may be, still through my influence may be, yet in the straightforward performance of a constitutional duty, with all my strength I join my countrymen against a measure fraught with disaster and overthrow to the institutions for which their fathers fought and bled on a hundred fields of battle."

When Cromwell designed the overthrow of the liberty of his country what did he do? I will let Hume, the historian, speak. Hear him:

"Cromwell began to hope that, by his administration attended with so much luster and success abroad, so much order and tranquillity at home, he had now acquired such authority as would enable him to meet the representatives of the Nation, and would assure him of their dutiful compliance with his government. He summoned a parliament; but not trusting to those to the good will of the people he used every art which his new model of representation allowed him to employ, in order to influence the Elections (Vide Goebel law) and fill the house with his own creatures."

"The unlawful assumption of power by those who hold authority (Legislature—servants of the people) has been waging an unbroken contest with the rightful sovereignty of political institutions from the earliest dawn of history to the present time. Liberty and despotism have been the two great opposing forces which have convulsed the world. (State) torn down old systems and planted new ones (as was the case last winter) and marked the world's highway of progress with fields of battle. There struggles for the supremacy have never ceased. Change has always been the desire of man's heart. It is in the heart of man to grasp at power. (Like was exhibited last winter. Dominion is sweet, and the earth and sea, with all that in them dwell, have not suffered. In their subservience to fill the measure of man's ambition, to govern."

"They (Paris, now in power) know that they are the Hessians of this (political strife), and that no peace will be permitted to revisit this bleeding (State) as long as villainy can find pay in the coffers (stolen offices) of the government. If this evil brood can prevent it. But, sir, I thank God that the hand writing is on the wall. The corrupt and impious feast of Belshazzar, the King, his princes, his parasites and concubines, is about over. (Music Hall Convention.) They drank wine, and praised the gods of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. But in the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote their doom over against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall of the King's palace. And the fingers of the (Kentucky) people are busily engaged in writing a doom equally terrible against those who have turned the temple of our fathers (State of Kentucky) into a den of thieves."

"Sir, the history of the progress of liberty, next to the history of the Christian religion, is the most sublime and instructive lesson taught in the annals of the world. Its fortunes, indeed, have been various, but no season of adversity has ever sufficed to quench the vestal fire which burn on its altars. And in all the terrible struggles which it has jarred the nation and liberated the people, its sole antagonist has been the principle that to one man belongs the right to govern the many. Kings, and the courtiers of Kings, who talk of the divine right to the possession and exercise of power, have been the enemies which Liberty has had to encounter. Every contest it ever waged has been to put restraint and control on the will, the pretensions, the authority of one man. Every battle fought beneath its banners in all ages, has been to resist and repel the arrogant and unlawful claims of power by one man. Every law which was enacted in its interests, from the laws of God on Mount Sinai to the present hour, has been enacted to protect the masses from the ravages and oppressive hand of one man. This has forever been the issue, and it is the issue now."

"But, sir, it is a dangerous ingredient to cast, by the passage of this bill (Goebel Bill), into the oiling cauldron of popular discontent and popular indignation; and the popular voice comes up here (last November), ringing loud and clear over the storm and dissensions in this hall saying to the members on the other side, go back to your broken pledges; go back to the Constitution (you have all sworn to support); cease, as you value your lives; cease, as you value the peace of the State; cease, as you dread the lurid flames of civil war at your own homesteads; cease the infractions of the American's (Kentucky) rights—renew the Constitution. Dare no more to lay your hands on the white man's liberty. Go no further in this line of policy which you have attempted. I say to you, gentlemen, that, as the Lord God reigns in heaven, you can not go on with your system (as defined by the Goebel Bill, depriving citizens of their inherent rights) free white men for what they conceive to be their duty within the plain provisions of the Constitution, and maintain peace in Kentucky. Blood will flow. You can not, and you shall not, force our fetters on our limbs, without a struggle for the mastery. I say this in sorrow; but I would be false to the people whom I represent, false to the victims of duty. If I did not tell you plainly here this night, not in bitterness, but in candor, that the people are determining to resist the assault. The great American (Kentucky) heart is fired anew with the love of liberty, and the people are arousing like the giant after his sleep. They have erected their altars, and will not permit to be the weight of your finger, of your smallest, on one of the great monuments of personal freedom which adorn the history of the world. If

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

You do, it is at your most deadly peril."

"The voice of barons, the voice of John Haupten, and the voice of Patrick Henry, crying (as John Baptist cried in the wilderness), 'Give me liberty, or give me death,' were all concentrated in the voice of the people of this country (State), as expressed at the ballot box in the recent election."

Mr. E. L. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever, that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. No one helped me. I expected soon to die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now I am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This great remedy is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Wicker chairs soon become soiled, but they can be cleaned to look like new with and warm water. Use a scrubbing brush when water becomes the least soiled, get back twice with a soft, dry cloth, and wipe dry. White iron beds can also be washed by this method, but must be wiped dry quickly.

For the best results, use "GOLD DUST" FOR HOUSEWORK. Sent free on request.
